Memory Cafés: An Oasis Any Time of Year

Are you traveling along the dementia highway? The roadways are crowded. None of the maps show what exit to take to find one of the best rest stops around. Here’s a tip. Look for the sign that says, “Memory Cafe Next Exit.”

More and more people are discovering that stopping at a Memory Cafe event is like finding an oasis in the desert. You’re invited to join them if you or a loved one you care for at home have memory issues due to a disease process or traumatic brain injury, and you want to continue actively enjoying life.

Local Memory Cafe events are run by Cate McCarty, PhD., of Dr. Cate Dementia Coach, and Jane Ogilvie, LPN, the owner of Senior Solutions of Pinellas County. They understand dementia professionally and through personal family experiences. A combined 70+ years of experience allows them to share two unique perspectives. They offer stimulating thought and conversations. Resource information is shared, laughing is common, and good stories abound. Surround yourself with understanding others on their own dementia journeys.

While she lay in bed with her hearing aid turned off and her cellphone stored away, three Gulfport Firemen knocked on her door. Hearing no reply, the first responders came in through an unlocked window.

Seeing the harsh glow of a flashlight coming down the hallway into her bedroom startled Dance, who got out of bed, spying the first responders in her hallway.

“I screamed with every fiber in my being, and I really scared the tar out of them,” said Dance. “There were three men in my house, so you can imagine.”

Fireman Timothy Burton had gotten stuck entering the window, and the sight of someone half in the house was terrifying.

“Most of the time we have to break in, and luckily the window was open,” said Lieutenant Rene Fernandez. “But it was a small window.”

Burton, Fernandez and Fireman Christopher Mathis then checked in with the system, Valued Relationships Inc., or VRI.

“Once we got her to calm down we thought she was the sweetest lady,” said Fernandez. “We call her ‘our station grandma.’”

It was the following Wednesday, July 31, that Dance decided to bring a few sweet treats to the Gulfport Fire Department. Hoping to express her gratitude, Dance caught Burton cooking hamburgers at the station.

“I appreciate them, I was so appreciative and thankful,” said Dance. “I asked them If I could pray for them.”

After hearing that she had never been in a fire truck before, the three helped Dance into the big red truck, resulting in a few photo opportunities with the Gulfport local in a lieutenant helmet.

Coincidentally, Dance and the firemen have seen each other on the street since.

Shortly after the fiasco, Dance saw a familiar fire truck in a parking lot on her way home.

“I thought, ‘I wonder if these are my boys?’” said Dance.

It was.

“They hugged me and called me grandma,” Dance said. “Now I’m grandma.”

Since, Dance has installed a system that amplifies the sound of the doorbell and uses flashing lights to signal when someone is there.

“Every time I see a fire truck I think of them,” said Dance. “I feel like I’m part of the family.”

49th Street Cleanup and Chiefs’ Chat

Join Gulfport Mayor Sam Henderson and St. Petersburg Mayor Rick Kriseman as they host the 5th Annual Mayors’ 49th Street Cleanup on Saturday, October 13.

After the cleanup join Gulfport Police Chief Rob Vincent and St. Petersburg Police Chief Tony Holloway as they host the 4th Annual Chiefs’ Chat Community Forum. It’s an informal and relaxed way to learn more about how the two departments work together and it also provides an opportunity for residents to ask the chiefs questions.

The cleanup is about more than picking up litter. It is a celebration of community and it is about collaboration of the neighborhoods along 49th Street. Residents from all areas of both cities are encouraged to participate. This event affords all the opportunity to come out and meet neighbors, from both communities and while also making a difference! The communities of Gulfport and St. Petersburg should not be divided by anything more than four lanes of asphalt.

The event will feature community groups such as Chart 411, Keep Pinellas Beautiful, Tampa Bay Watch, LOCAL Shops 1 and others.

It takes place on the Tangerine Greenway on 49th Street South at Tangerine Avenue. Cleanup participants will be divided into four teams and will clean 49th Street and its adjacent alleys from the Pinellas Trail to Gulfport Blvd./22nd Avenue.

Registration and a light breakfast begins at 8:15 a.m., the Mayor’s Welcome at 9 a.m. The Cleanup begins at 9:15 a.m. and the Chiefs’ Chat starts at 10:30 a.m.

ARIES (March 21-April 19). The achievement you wish for most will not be accomplished alone. The aim can only be reached through other people. Self-sacrifice, kindness, self-censorship... these are the social skills to employ in getting this goal. It is all within your ability. You're well liked. Go thoughtfully forward.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20). You're a shrewd investor these days, regardless of the currency you're operating with. And you will operate with many different currencies before the week is over. Do your research on the project, person or financial arrangement to make sure it's worthy of your attention, money and time.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21). Not knowing what to do next isn't the same thing as doubting yourself. You hesitate, not because you don't believe in your talents, but because you're trying to figure out the best way to use them. Better to hang back and observe with an open mind than to rush into a mistake, or worse, a trap.

CANCER (June 22-July 22). No matter where you are, what you wear professes your style and how you feel about yourself. It will be as true in your own bedroom as it is at a grocery store, a museum, a gym, a park or a ball. There's no getting away from sartorial statements, so you may as well embrace and use them.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22). Your support group could use some rounding out. It's not a pressing issue, but if you make an intention out of it and quietly seek new members to add to Team You, you'll make progress over the week. The sort of people you need are knowledgeable, creative and enthusiastic. Givers only need apply.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22). Someone who has lived a life very different from your own (and from most of the people you know for that matter) will figure prominently in your week, subtly influencing your decisions. You may know this person socially, or through the magic of media. Either way, the connection brings out your best and brightest.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23). Your intuition about the lives of others will be especially hot this week; however, this can only really help you if their lives are connected to your own. So focus on you. What is it you can give to them, and what is it you need from them? Work on your powers of persuasion.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 21). You are well acquainted with the sort of jobs in which, if you do well, you'll get no praise and if you get into trouble, you'll get no help. It will not bother you to go down this path again. In fact, there's dignity in it, as the work itself is what gives you everything -- adventure, strength, an interesting life and much more.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21). There's a time for selfless giving, and a time for reciprocity. This week, you'll be proactive in your endeavors, giving first but letting others know what your expectations are on the return. Worthy partners will step up. You'll cultivate a dynamic with the potential to serve both parties well into the future.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19). New places will change and grow you. You'll soon become so comfortable traversing new territory that you'll no longer give two thoughts as to whether or not you're fitting in. It won't be necessary to blend into your environment, only to respect its features while you learn all you can about the rules that govern it.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18). If ever there were a week to be kinder than necessary, this is it. It will behoove you to extend something extra in the way of compassion, a gift to the world that will also happen to define you. It's not that you're going for sainthood, but you are trying to pave the way for a better future.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20). Share your stories and ask people for theirs. It's the mundane experiences that will turn out to be the most interesting. You'll be surprised at the responses you get to simple questions. You've a gift for pointing your curiosity to the heart of the matter. What is ordinary to you is intriguing and grand to someone else.

What Are Health Care Surrogates and Living Wills?

A thoughtfully prepared disability plan should cover who should handle a disabled person's health care matters as well as their property management issues. After all, health care matters are of monumental importance because of their deeply personal character and the consequences those decisions might have on the person's length and quality of life. The best way to avoid a guardian being appointed by the court to make these health care decisions is to designate a Health Care Surrogate.

The Health Care Surrogate should be in a good position to use substituted judgement for the disabled person, the principal, and thus should have a solid grasp of the disabled person's attitudes, the quality of life the disabled person would find satisfactory, and his or her religious beliefs and philosophy of life. The disabled person should be confident in placing these important judgments into the hands of the Health Care Surrogate.

A competent person has the right to refuse medical treatment for any reason whatsoever, even if that refusal will result to an otherwise preventable death. But what happens if that person is unable to communicate his or her wishes? A living will goes into effect if a person falls into a condition where recovery is almost impossible. It is a set of written instructions stating an individual's desire not to be kept alive through the use of medical technology when that individual is in a terminal condition and incapable of giving informed consent or refusal for further treatment. It also appoints someone to make such decisions on that person's behalf.

A living will is one of the most important estate preservation techniques available to the average person. Numerous studies have shown that a large portion of all health care costs in the United States are incurred in the last few days of a person's life. The cost burdens to the family members of individuals in terminal conditions are also considerable. Many families are forced to spend substantial amounts of their income and savings in order to medically prolong the lives of their loved ones for just a few days.

Osher Lifelong Learning Institute at Eckerd College – Expand and Enrich Your Life

By Angelina Bruno

The Osher Lifelong Learning Institute (OLLI) at Eckerd College is gearing up for another exciting 2018 Fall Term with 124 classes and activities offered at its St. Petersburg location. The OLLI program bears the fitting slogan “Where Curiosity Never Retires,” welcoming learners over the age of 50 in Pinellas County. The OLLI program uses classes, interest groups and day trips to educate and entertain members, providing more than 300 intellectually stimulating opportunities each year for students. Classes are non-credit, so students can learn and enjoy without the pressure of testing or grades.

OLLI’s interest groups, exciting day trips and sessions, cover a wide range, from the performing arts to Florida wildlife, so there are opportunities for everyone to participate.

“Personally, I’m very excited for the fly fishing class,” said Mary Szaroleta, Director at OLLI. “I think it will be really fun.” The fly fishing class teaches casting, rigging and then applies the techniques in an on-campus pond.

Other classes on the schedule for fall include Immigration and the U.S. Economy, Introduction to Tai Chi, John Muir in Florida, Stay Safe Online, Google Maps Overview, The World’s Religions in Tampa Bay, 1968: The Year that Changed Music Forever, live simulcasts of the New York Metropolitan Opera, recorded performances from the British National Theatre from London and the productions from the Bolshoi Ballet and many, many more. Outside of classes, OLLI offers off-site day trips, with locations like Tampa Bay Watch, Boyd Hill Nature Preserve, the Archbold Biological Station and the Dunedin Historic Home Tour. Several Dine-Around experiences are also offered, giving foodies the chance to explore (or revisit) local restaurants in a fun, group setting.

Walt Ulbricht, an OLLI member, volunteer, co-chair of the OLLI Marketing Committee and an appointee to the the OLLI Advisory Council. Ulbricht retired in 2014 and was extremely impressed with the high quality of the liberal arts classes for adult learners offered at Eckerd College.

Eventually he took to the classroom at Eckerd, using his graduate degree in film studies from the University of Wisconsin-Madison to share his knowledge and enthusiasm for American classic films from the 1950s, 1960s and 1970s to OLLI learners.

“Presenting a great film from this era with OLLI participants is a stimulating cultural and generational connection that we share together,” Ulbricht said.

Participants from past years have had an overwhelming positive response, with comments like “A most enjoyable experience,” and “It is wonderful to have your mind opened up.”

Classes start at $10 for members, with many courses that run one session. A membership is not required to participate, but can be beneficial, especially for those interested in participating in more than one session or day trip.

Benefits of a yearly OLLI membership include discounted rates for day trips and classes, exclusive participation in interest groups, OLLI member rate of $5 for buffet lunches at the Continuing Education Center on-campus dining hall, discounted entrance fees at the Museum of Fine Arts and the St. Petersburg Museum of History and more.

Membership runs from January 1 to December 31 and costs $59. Memberships purchased after July 1 extend through the end of the following year.

Looking to give a great gift? OLLI memberships can be gifted too!

To join, learners can call the OLLI office at 727-864-7600, send in the membership form found online at eckerd.edu/olli or follow instructions online to enroll there. Fall term catalogs can also be mailed to interested persons.
